Some Paintings
Utopia Art Sydney
5 - 26 May, 2018

Liz Coats' upcoming exhibition 'Some Paintings' will present a selection of works from Coats' 2017 survey exhibition 'Active Seeing'. It will also provide a first intensive look at Coats' latest series "Fishing".

Liz Coats' impressive survey exhibition, 'Active Seeing', encompassed works created over four decades of the artist's career. It was curated by Tony Oates for the Drill Hall Gallery.

"I want to go deeper; to be led into the surface through a dimensional network of colour shapes and gaps between that have equal importance. Sometimes I want the colours to circulate around and through each other, to be as irregular as possible before the composition loses cohesion."
